Elm Tips: Story Ideas

- 1. Look Around. Study bulletin boards and other places where public notices are posted.
- 2. Ask questions. Talk to your friends and classmates: What would they like to read about in the newspaper? What are they concerned about, frustrated about? What would they like to know more about?
- 3. Eavesdrop. Listen to people talk in line at the dining hall, the bookstore, common rooms.
- 4. Read your emails. Even if you're not interested in an announcement a staff or faculty member sends out, someone probably is.
- 5. Read, read, read. Newspapers, magazines, newsletters, fliers. Read news sources other than the Elm: the Kent County News, the Washington Post, NPR.
- 6. Check Facebook and Twitter.
- 7. Check the Washington College website. Are there any new press releases out? Has anyone published a new book or article recently?
- 8. Look around. Check for changes on campus, things that stand out, long lines, new businesses, for sale signs.
